If logo placement is flexible (bottom half):

I only need room for a title.

This option might be slightly easier with 13 people, but again, some will be more prominent than others.

– create interest in the middle of the table by passing/signing papers, talking with hands, using laptops, etc. Also, might want to consider having some standing, some sitting, leaning in, leaning back, some in forefront, some in background if possible.

There's 13+ chairs in this one!! There's also enough extra boardroom table in the shot that I could place the logo blocks/bar graph graphic directly on the boardroom table... Just something to consider on photo shoot day.

Would be great if half of them phoned it in like this!! :)
